Osmosis Medical Grade Skin Care

Do I need to use Osmosis if I am starting a series of IPL PhotoRejuvenation Treatments?

No, it is not essential. You will achieve fabulous results through our IPL PhotoRejuvenation sessions regardless.

What are the benefits of using Osmosis in conjunction with my IPL PhotoRejuvenation Treatments?

It will help to strengthen your skin pre and post treatment. How?

- Reduce inflammation commonly associated with capillary damage
- Stimulates and rebuilds your own collagen and elastin which supports your capillary network. Hence, reducing future capillary damage
- Reduces breakouts associated with rosacea/stressed/inflamed skin
- Repairs your skins natural barrier
- Reduces sensitive skin conditions
- Strengthen, nurtures and supports then skin through feeding it vital nutrients and minerals it requires to be strong and healthy

But I have tried EVERYTHING on my skin and nothing seems to help. Only make it worse!

This occurs because your acid mantle (natural skin barrier) is not intact. Osmosis will help to re-establish your acid mantle therefore reducing inflammation and redness.

Why is it SO important to have a product 100% natural?

Your skin is a living organ, the largest in fact. Whatever you put on it, expect it to be absorbed. Products that contain preservatives (eg parabens), synthetics, fillers and chemicals commonly irritate the skin. Your skin cells do not need these ingredients to function, they actually hate it. Just like our bodies like fruit, vegetables, fresh soups so does our skin cells, they are no different. They want vitamin A, Vitamin C, Whey protein for hydration and calming, Niacinamide, Vitamin B12 etc

Feed your skin what it needs and your skin will love you for it. It will be strong and healthy and more resilient.
